FINAL OPPORTUNITY TO COMMENT ON DRAFT WATERSHED PLAN

The English River Watershed Improvement and Resiliency Plan, which was released for public comment on August 14th, will soon complete the required 30-day public comment period on Monday, September 14th, at 5:00 PM.

Members of the public, especially those living in the English River Watershed, are encouraged to submit comments on the plan. The entire watershed plan can be viewed online at the English River Watershed website. Those interested in submitting comments should complete a brief and anonymous questionnaire, which is located immediately below the plan on the same website. You can also access the survey directly here.

The Watershed Improvement and Resiliency Plan is the collaborative product of research and input from a variety of community stakeholders, the public, and WMA member organizations. The 30-day comment period is designed to allow the public a chance to comment on what they believe to be the strengths and weaknesses of the plan and provides an opportunity to prioritize the goals that are most important to the well-being of the entire watershed.
